Dear Mr. Stenzel:

On March 29, 2001, we first forwarded a draft patent application for your review. Relying upon your statements that you would review the application and assist us in filing it, we authorized PAVCAL to pay you the appropriate inventor's award. Despite repeated reminders conveyed both by telephone and by mail, however, we did not receive any comments from you regarding the draft application until August 31, 2001.

On September 10, 2001 we forwarded a revised proposed patent application and formal documents for your review and signature. Also included was a return Federal Express envelope and label. In addition, on September 24, 2001 and October 5, 2001 we sent you reminder letters via certified mail requesting the above-referenced documents. To date we have not received any communication from you.

We are again asking you to sign and date the Declaration and Power of Attorney as well as the Assignment and return them to us as soon as possible. If we do not receive these documents from you by October 31, we will be forced to consider legal action to recover the inventor's award and to compel you to execute the documents, as required by your employment agreement with PAVCAL.

We look forward to receiving the executed application. Should you have any further questions regarding this matter, please do not hesitate to call.

Very truly yours,

RATNER & PRESTIA
